OF THE

NEW BOSTON CEMETERY,

FOR THE YEAR ENDING FEBRUARY, 1878.

There is nothing material in connection with the Cemetery which we should bring to the notice of the town that we now recall, except the fact that the survey of new lots has been made on the south portion of the new addition. Also, a part of the west addition; and we shall be ready to deed them to those wishing to purchase as soon as the snow is removed. We present from the Superintendent's report the following:

INTERMENTS.

SCHOOL REPORT.

Some of the schools during the past year meet our approbation, others have not been what we might wish. To be successful a teacher must work; and we think, in a great measure, the secret of success is in work.

We have had twenty-six different teachers during the year, only two being males. Seven have never taught before. Good progress has been made in all the schools in writing. We have noticed some teachers permit scholars to cite "the rule" for an explanation of an example. We have endeavored to correct this by requiring a careful analysis of the question. We use too much chalk. The teacher ought never to allow the board to be used if the scholar can solve the problem in the head; were this the fact we should not have so much cause to lament "the days when Colburn's Arithmetic was in use." The school houses, with the exception of Nos. 2 and 15, are comfortable. No. 13 has expended $200 in repairs. They have now a nice large room, well lighted, heated and ventilated. Will not Nos. 2 and 15 go and do likewise?

No change has been made in the text-books during the year. A bad practice exists in district No. 8, of locking the teacher out of the school-house during New Year's day. We understand, forty or fifty years ago, the older scholars were accustomed to lock the teacher out, sell the ashes, buy rum, and have a good time in general. The latter part of the act is repealed, and we think it is time that it all was; either let the Prudential Committee declare that a holiday, or the scholars understand that they will be liable to expulsion if they persist in it. We respectfully call your attention to our last year's report on ventilation, as but little change has been made in that respect.

We understand from the State Superintendent that union districts should be under the exclusive control of the town sending the largest number of scholars. From that reason, and also because we have not received any notice, Nos. 1 and 17 have not been visited.

DISTRICT NO. 2.

John C. Holt, Agent. Summer term. Miss Jennie M. Ferry, teacher. The average attendance was good. No case of tardiness is recorded in the register, and but four cases of dismissal. We think the interests of the school were well cared for by the teacher.

Winter term. Miss Fannie C. Goodhue, teacher. Attendance fair. During the winter quite a number of large boys attended, some of whom it was evident had not been accustomed to the best discipline, consequently it was a hard school to manage. If some of the same scholars are to attend next winter we would recommend a large male teacher with an ox goad. The teacher worked hard, and we were well pleased with the examination.

DISTRICT NO. 3.

B. W. Richards, Agent. One term (fall). Miss Flora M. Senter commenced the school, and at the end of two weeks resigned from some cause not recorded in the register; Miss Sarah E. McLane finished the term. Average attendance, good. Good progress was observed in all the studies. Mary J. Campbell was neither absent, tardy nor dismissed.

DISTRICT NO. 4.

David Marden, Agent. Summer term, Miss Lydia W. Dodge, teacher. Attendance fair. We learned during the term that some of the boys were inclined to take the advantage of the teacher, but a compromise was finally made, after which they did better. At the examination the house was beautifully decorated, and ice-cool lemonade was passed around.

Winter term. Miss Sybil B. Marden, teacher. Average attendance very good; but two cases of dismissal recorded in the register, and but seven of tardiness—one scholar having five of the latter. This was one of the most orderly schools in town.

George D. Marden attended both summer and winter without being absent, tardy or dismissed; also, Amos L. Lash during the winter.

DISTRICT NO. 5.

F. A. G. Read, Agent. One term (fall), Miss Martha B. Mosher, teacher. Attendance bad. The school was 12 weeks, having 13 scholars. There were 108 days' absence, and 83 cases of tardiness. At our first visit we were pleased with the manner of the teacher and the deportment of the scholars, but our expectations were not verified at the examination. We think the trouble was a lack of interest on the part of the teacher and the irregular attendance of the scholars.

DISTRICT NO. 6.

Frank O. Loring, Agent. Miss Minnie L. Burnham, teacher. At the end of the fifth week of the summer term the school was closed on account of sickness of the scholars. The winter term was taught by the same teacher, commencing in the fall. We had no notice at the close of the summer term, consequently did not visit it. At the end of the winter school but five or six scholars were present, some being sick and some being away, for what reason we do not know. This is a very pleasant school, the scholars being orderly and well disposed. There seems to be a sameness of tone in the reading classes, which we called the attention of the teacher to, but she thought she was not equal to the emergency. We confess, to rectify this is no easy matter, but hope no teacher will apply for the school who is not satisfied they can remedy it. Emma and Willard Woods were the only scholars who were neither absent, tardy nor dismissed.

DISTRICT NO. 7.

Charles Goodrich, Agent. Miss Ida M. Fox, teacher, both summer and winter terms. Attendance not good. The teacher worked hard, and we were much pleased with the examinations. Fred. H. Brown and Eddie Jewell attended the summer term without being absent, tardy, or dismissed. A private school of four weeks was taught by the same teacher after the close of the winter. We were present at the examination and think the expense was a profitable investment. The school was kept by the exertion and liberality of the Prudential Committee and two or three others. We wish all would take as much interest.

DISTRICT NO. 8.

Eben Dodge, Agent. Summer term, primary school, Miss May E. Odion, teacher. Attendance not good. This was the teacher's second term in this school, and she met with her former success. Good progress was made, and so far as we learned all were satisfied. Arthur Wason, George H. Willey, Ina Woodbury, Minnie Johonnett, Ellen D. Clark, Olive Marden, and Etta Fox were neither absent, tardy, nor dismissed.

Grammar School. Clara F. Dodge, teacher. Attendance good. We think the term a successful one. The reading was not quite what we might wish it. The scholars appeared well at the examination, and we think the teacher gave general satisfaction.

Winter term, Primary. Miss Abbie S. Clark, teacher. Attendance fair. Walter A. Fox, Walter L. Kelso and George H. Willey, were neither absent, tardy or dismissed. In order, we think there was no improvement on last term, but no teacher in town worked harder, and no school showed more progress, especially in reading.

Grammar School. J. Q. Haywood, teacher. Attendance bad. This school was not harmonious. The scholars did not show respect enough for the teacher, and we think the teacher exhibited too little interest in the school. On account of the withdrawal of a part of the scholars, we thought it best to have the examination a week before the close of the school. We know of no way in which the trouble existing here can be remedied, except by procuring a teacher who can keep the school by force, if necessary; such a teacher, we think, getting the good will of the scholars, would have no trouble.

DISTRICT NO. 9.

James Warren, Agent. Summer term. Miss Nellie L. Knights, teacher. Attendance very good. We have no doubt the teacher tried to make good progress, but she certainly lacked that energy without which no teacher can be successful.

Fall term. Miss Annie C. McNeil, teacher. Average attendance bad. This was the teacher's first school and we think it successful. Much thoroughness was shown by the examination. The teacher worked hard for the welfare of the school.

Winter term. Miss Mary Campbell, teacher. Attendance good. Although but a short term, much was accomplished. We hope this teacher will not be permitted to teach out of town again.

DISTRICT NO. 10.

Union with Goffstown. G. E. Robbins, Agent. New Boston money expended in the fall. Miss Lizzie McLane, teacher. Attendance not very good. Most of the scholars attend from Goffstown. The school appeared well at the examination and we think good progress was made.

DISTRICT NO. 11.

F. S. Richards, Agent. Summer, Miss Mary E. McLane, teacher. Attendance good. Most of the scholars small. This was the teacher's first term. We think she may feel flattered by her success.

Winter, Miss Mary R. Colby, teacher. This we think was longest term in town during the year. Again the district was fortunate in the selection of a teacher. But little ground was gone over, but that was thoroughly learned, as the examination proved.

DISTRICT NO. 12.

Union with Francestown. George Langdell, Agent. Miss Hattie Todd, teacher of both summer and winter terms. Only two scholars attended in the summer, Willie A. Patch of Francestown, and Harry W. Langdell from New Boston; neither were absent, tardy, or dismissed. In the winter there were only three scholars, with an average of only two. Through a mistake we were not present at the examination of the summer, but they appeared well at the close of the winter school, and we remarked that we thought the teacher was worthy of a larger school.

DISTRICT NO. 13.

Jacob Langdell, Agent. Summer, Miss Fannie C. Goodhue, teacher. A good school, well cared for. Scholarship good. The success of this term was in a great measure due to the exertion of the teacher.

Winter, Miss Annie C. McNeil, teacher. In scholarship this school rivals the village, and is second to none in town. The parents may well feel proud of their scholars, school house and teacher. There seems to be perfect harmony in the district and we think any teacher will find it a pleasant school.

DISTRICT NO. 14.

Ira M. Buxton, Agent. Summer, Miss Ida F. Wilkins, teacher. This was a small school. The teacher had taught in the district before. Good progress was made. Bertie J. Buxton was the only scholar who was neither absent, tardy, nor dismissed.

Winter term, Miss Alice H. Carr, teacher. Attendance bad. On account of a hard storm only three scholars were present at the examination. Judging from these three, we think there was no reason for complaint. Orrin S. Waldo and Arthur W. Etchells were neither absent, tardy or dismissed.

DISTRICT NO. 15.

George Sanders, Agent. Summer term. Mrs. Mary E. Lamson, teacher. This school appeared well at our visits and if the teacher had not suffered from an acute attack of nostalgia, we think it would have been a pleasant term all round. This was her first school. Elsie L. and Byron Smith, and Sarah A. Scruton were not absent, tardy or dismissed.

Winter term. Miss Philena Currier, teacher. Attendance, fair. The teacher worked hard, and we think with good results. This was her first term.

DISTRICT NO. 16.

Fred Sherer, Agent. Miss Susie E. McLane, teacher. A fall term was taught by the same teacher, making the third term she has taught in this district. Attendance good. Good progress was made, and we think the district had reason to be satisfied. Margaret W. Page, Clara Langdell, Laura F. Page, Lena Sherer, Alice M. Lull, and Carrie E. Woodbury attended both terms without being absent, tardy or dismissed. Arthur C. Wilson, John H. Carter, and Gertrude Sherer, one term.

Winter term. Perley E. Goodhue, teacher. Attendance very bad. Gertrude Sherer, Alice M. Lull and Arthur Wilson attended without having a mark. Some of the scholars left before the close of the school. Those present answered questions readily, and we think the school made good progress and was well cared for.
